School for Student Leadership: Dinner Plain

Our students at the Alpine School (Renae, Brooke H, Lizzy and Harry) are now into their fourth week and having a wonderful time. Below is an email received this week from their supervising teacher which outlines some of last week’s activities.

Hi all

Most of the week was consumed by our first Expo, including our Prep and Review. When out skiing, we had some beautiful weather, with glorious sunny days. We were all tested in terms of managing the frosty, cold night/morning, and some sported injuries, but the students coped well and with very little, if any, complaint. We all made the most of the chance to enjoy the fresh snow off the trails too, igniting more interest in skiing for most. Hopefully the photos I attach will give you a good idea of what it was like too.

The students also started their Alpine Learning Projects this week and enjoyed their first downhill ski day. They have participated in the Peer Skills classes too and continued with their CLP and their Passports. They also squeezed in a Rest Day, but I’m yet to hear what they actually got up to that day, since it’s been a while since I’ve actually been up at school. I’m looking forward to catching up with them soon, though.

Kind regards,
Caroline

Welcome to Pascale!

This week we welcomed Pascale Tobler, an exchange student with AFS who will be spending the remainder of the year with us. Pascale lives with her family in Wettingen, a city with a population of approximately 20,000, which is located in German-speaking Switzerland. We look forward to learning about Swiss life in the coming months.
Advance camp

Congratulations to all the students who attended last week’s Advance camp at Nelson. All the reports that I have received indicate that the camp was a great success. One student commented to me that she felt it was one of the best camps she had attended because everyone had worked together so cooperatively to get tasks completed. One of the fundamental aims of our camps program is that students will support each other in a new and often challenging environment so it’s great to hear that this was the case last week. I would like to thank Alison Coate and Andrew Bennett for their work in preparing for, and attending the camp and thanks also to April Stonehouse, a trainee teacher who recently completed a teaching round at the school and returned to assist with supervision.

Parent –Teacher interviews

I would like to remind all our families that Semester 2 Parent-Teacher interviews will be held next Tuesday 19 August. School will finish at 1pm and buses will leave shortly afterwards. Interviews commence at 2pm and conclude at 6:30pm. Parents with children in Prep-Year 4 will have received their interview times with the exception of those in Mrs Rous’ class who will have their interviews at a later date. As has been the case in recent years, interviews for parents with children in Years 5-12 will be in the BER building and parents are asked to see staff as they become available.

Parent Opinion Survey

Thank you to all the families who completed the Parent Opinion survey. The information will be collated by DEECD and the results made available to the school next term. We always value feedback from parents about any aspect of the school and I would encourage you to let us know if you have any concerns.

Graeme Good
A Snapshot of what our Alpine students have been up to
On Thursday morning last week a representative from the ‘Elevate Education’ group named Adam came to the school and spoke to the VCE students about preparing for exams and ways to improve memory for revision. The students were very positive in their response to the sessions, and some of their comments were as follows:

“The most important thing I learnt today was how to manage my time. It’s something I often have trouble with.”

“I learnt how to memorise notes and make them shorter.”

“I learnt how important the three weeks before the exam is in particular.”

“I need to study in 45 minute blocks.”

“I got an understanding of the time frames of revision for exams and how to learn semantically.”

LIONS YOUTH OF THE YEAR

Yesterday we were fortunate in having two representatives from the Lions Club talk to the Year 8-12 students about the Youth of the Year program. To enter the competition this year students need to be over the age of 15 and under 19 as of 30th June 2015.

The program is designed to encourage, foster and develop leadership in conjunction with other citizenship qualities in youth, at the age when they are about to enter the fields of employment or higher education. Students are provided with the incentive to pay greater attention to the general qualities, so vital in developing our youth into first-class citizens. The qualities sought after, apart from academic attainments are those of leadership, personality, sportsmanship, public speaking and good citizenship.

Students who are interested in entering need to let me know by next Monday 18th August at the latest. They will have received an entry form which we can help them fill out if they are having difficulties.

Cool Clubs: Change of Procedure

Each week any P-4 Students failing to meet our behaviour expectations are excluded from Cool Clubs.

In the past a note was sent home to inform parents. The note was signed and returned to school. We have reviewed this procedure and will now send a text message to the parent. A note will not be sent home, however it is still expected that the parents will have a discussion with their child regarding their behaviour that week. Parents are encouraged to contact Mrs Tanner, should they wish to discuss the matter further. Thank you.

Year 10-12 Next Step - Health Workshop

Date/time: 22 September 2014, 10:00am - 1:00pm

Location: The Alfred Hospital, Prahran, Melbourne

Are you in year 10, 11 or 12 and considering a career in the health industry? Why not join us for a ‘Next step’ workshop.

Attending this half day information session will help you to demystify university life as you make the next step to a career in Health.

Whether you have made your decision about which career to pursue or you are still in the process of weighing up your options this program will assist you in many ways.

The Department of Health will be on hand to talk to you about projected workplace shortages in the health industry as well as other things to consider when making your career decisions.

Come and hear current students and recent graduates speak about their university experiences and ask them questions in a relaxed setting.

Find out about the different support services that are available for all university students, learn about all the people and places on a campus that are there to help you and see the range of different resources available to make your journey through university exciting and rewarding, allowing you to perform at your best.

Life at university is not just about study. The ‘Next step’ workshop will also showcase the diversity of exciting clubs and societies you can get involved with while you undertake your course.

There will be so much advice and assistance in this half day workshop it’s one not to be missed.

This session is run at The Alfred Hospital - Commercial Road Prahran

Bookings are essential and places are limited

Mixed berry cheesecake brownies

100 g dark chocolate, chopped
½ cup warm water
60 g dairy spread
¾ cup brown sugar
2 whisked eggs
½ cup plain flour
1/3 cup self-raising flour
½ cup cocoa powder
250 g cream cheese
1 cup ricotta
¼ cup caster sugar
1 egg extra, lightly whisked
300 g frozen berries

Method

Preheat oven to 180 degrees. Brush 20 x 30 cm slab pan with extra melted butter to lightly grease.
Combine the chocolate, water and dairy spread in a medium saucepan over low heat. Cook, stirring, for 5 minutes or until the chocolate melts and the mixture is smooth. Remove from heat. Add the brown sugar and stir to combine. Set aside for 5 minutes to cool.
Add the egg, combined flours and cocoa powder and stir to combine. Spoon mixture into prepared pan and smooth the surface.
Use an electric beater to beat cream cheese, ricotta, caster sugar and extra egg in a bowl until smooth. Stir in half the berries. Pour the cream cheese mixture over the chocolate mixture and sprinkle with the remaining berries.
Bake in oven for 50 minutes or until topping is set. Remove from oven. Set aside for 30 minutes to cool before placing in the fridge to cool completely. Cut into pieces and serve.
Last Wednesday the collective known as the Mortlake College Advance kids were on the road, venturing to our coveted coastal campsite - Karnkendi. Located in Nelson - just short of the South Australian border.

We made a quick stop in Warrnambool and Portland to complete our food shopping for the next 3 days of action and adventure.

Before arriving in Nelson we decided we'd meet with a lovely man named Ramon and casually explore some random caves in the middle of nowhere. Just joking. If memory serves me correctly these caves go by the name of Bats Ridge and are located 10km west of Portland - and it was all planned. Ramon took us on a half an hour experience that gave us an insight in to what his line of work's all about. Caving. There were lots of tight spaces and worried looks but not one quitter. Every one invested in challenging themselves and getting outside of their comfort zones, quite literally.

After caving, a spur of the moment decision was made to stop at the sand dunes surrounding the Swan Lake area. This trip created a lot of good photo opportunities and sore calves.

Around 5pm we finally arrived at Karnkendi and unpacked our belongings in to a R.E.A.L. building! We were all glad we got to sleep inside four walls given the going-ons of the weather throughout the Nelson area that day.

After settling in to our temporary home for the next 3 days, finishing a relaxing dinner and a few short games of pool, a group of us went night fishing. With no luck we came back with no fish.

All exhausted after a day of travels we climbed in to bed and dozed away the cold hours of the Nelson night.

The next morning we had more caves in mind, minus the self-navigation. A short photo opportunity at the border and a stop at Piccaninny Pond lead us to a guided tour of the Princess Margaret Rose Caves.
The tour got everyone familiar with just how amazing nature can be and how rich and new the culture and history of the area was. A short nature walk in Glenelg National Park above ground meant we were able to pinpoint our previous bearings underground in the caves.

After our last cave visit for the camp we headed back to Karnkendi for a spot of lunch before we set out on what was probably the biggest challenge we would have to face. A 15-20km hike/walk in the wilderness of the great south west.

Everyone made it to the bus eventually and it was great to see so much native flora & fauna along with a darling view of the Glenelg River 80% of the way.

With not much left in the tank to tolerate much of anything else even remotely active, we headed back to camp to call it a day.

Given our last night on retreat and our lack of energy, what would be a better way to cap off the night with a movie? Well, we were wrong because the $6 overnight rental was totally scratched beyond repair and we had found better things to do like bond over multiple games of camp-sized Twister.
What seemed like a much later night than that of the previous, came to an end after we had no more stamina for the tangly Twister entertainment. The last morning being a much earlier morning filled with a disdain for departure and lots of tired eyes. We shut-up-shop and moved on to our last scheduled activity for the camp - a tour of the Maritime Discovery Centre in Portland. Again we were reminded of the rich history and culture of the area and were able to appreciate many artefacts that dated back to the whaling period of our colonised coastline. These artefacts included whale harpoons, the Portland life boat and a skeleton of an adult-sized sperm whale in which you could recline inside.

Along with these artefacts the centre also showcased hoards of information about the local area and highlighted documented shipwrecks along the south western coastline of Victoria.

After allowing a short amount of exploration in the large centre we headed on home, stopping for some lunch in Portland and a quick visit to the Port Fairy lolly shop.

All in all it was a great adventure with great people and I hope I get the chance to experience another camp like this in the future.

Adding 10 minutes a day to a child’s reading makes a big difference over the year.

A comparison of Year 5 children

DID YOU NOTICE?
The more minutes children read per day, the more fluent their reading becomes. From 5 minutes to 15 minutes per night there is around a 200% increase in word exposure over one year!

Research shows us that the benefits of reading more improve performance in:

General knowledge, vocabulary, reading comprehension, verbal fluency and spelling.

The next issue of the bookclub has been sent out to students in Years Prep–Seven. Orders would need to be returned by Aug 27th.
The “You The Man” play is a 35 minute health promotion play for secondary students in years 8-12. It is being performed at the school on Wednesday 17th September. The play is funded by VicHealth and is coordinated by Deakin University in Geelong. The play is followed by a discussion with an expert panel from local services in Warrnambool. The play is a one man play, and the one actor plays multiple characters. This is a play with a serious message, promoting non-violent and respectful relationships. If you have any questions, contact Jenny Williams (Wed/Thur.)

What is CAMHS?

CAMHS is the abbreviation for Child & Adolescent Mental Health Service. CAMHS is part of the South West Mental Health Care Services. They are located in Warrnambool, but also have other locations, such as Camperdown and Hamilton. They are a specialist clinical assessment and treatment service for infants, children and young people up to 18 years of age.

CAMHS works with serious mental health concerns, for example, mood and anxiety, eating disorders, early or acute psychosis. They also work with young people where there are significant relationship problems, or to diagnose Autism Spectrum Disorders.

If you think CAMHS might be a service your family requires, you can talk to your doctor, or call yourself for more information. Young people, their family, and health care providers can refer to CAMHS. For more information you can call the duty worker on 5561 9100.

Welcome to the latest edition of The Wizardry of Water Education. As we approach the second half of the term, plenty of activity awaits.

We are looking forward to receiving an abundance of creative entries again this year in the annual National Water Week Poster Competition.

The Water It, Grow It, Cook It Competition closes on Friday 15th August, so get your entries in quick to be in with a chance to win some great prizes!

Thank you to those teachers who responded to the Wannon Water education program survey. We received a fantastic response. Dunkeld Consolidated School was randomly drawn as the lucky prize winner for completing the survey.

Finally, check out the great activities (with free resources) for Enviroweek from Cool Australia.

The Wannon Water Water It, Grow It, Cook It Competition is well underway with delicious recipes making us hungry!

Remember the competition closes soon, so make sure you get your entries in by Friday 15th August to be in the chance to win a share of over $2000 worth of gardening prize packs for your school. Selected entries will also feature in the e-cookbook.

Wannon Water is looking forward to seeing lots of delicious and nutritious mouth watering recipes.

For more details and to enter online visit www.wannonwater.com.au/education

National Water Week will be celebrated this year from 19-25 October. The theme this year is Water Sources: There are more than you think!

Discuss with your students different water sources such as:
- Surface water
- Groundwater
- Desalinated water
- Stormwater
- Wastewater
- Recycled water

For more information on water sources visit http://www.awa.asn.au/nationalwaterweek/

To help celebrate our precious resources, why not incorporate some of these activities as part of National Water Week.
- Enter the Poster Competition (closes 15th September).
- Have a water-themed or blue dress up day as a fundraiser.
- Celebrate ‘being healthy’ and promote the importance of drinking water for good health - Choose Tap!
- Write a poem or song about water sources.
- Book a water education incursion.
- Run a water detective game - see if students can identify if/where water is being wasted around the school.
- Build an aquifer or make a rain gauge.
- Have a debate about the different water sources.
- Conduct water based science experiments.
