Parent Helpers’ Morning Tea
On Friday a morning tea will be held at school to acknowledge and thank all those parents, relatives and friends who have supported the school in any way throughout the year. We receive wonderful support from parents in so many different areas of school life so thank you one and all!

State Schools’ Spectacular
At Monday’s assembly certificates were presented to the sixteen students who participated in this year’s State Schools’ Spectacular. In an accompanying letter the Minister for Education congratulated the students and staff for their contribution to the success of the Spectacular. He said, “Dare to Dream was a delight to watch and a fantastic opportunity for so many students and schools to really shine. The support of your teachers and students delivered an amazing and engaging talent showcase—an inspirational team effort from all the young performers and the behind-the-scenes crew. I trust your students’ experiences in this program have been positive and rewarding, developing their skills, perseverance, discipline and confidence.”

Certificates were presented to the following students;

Abbey Burford  Phoebe Calvert  Shae DeFrancesco
Taine DeManser  Josephine Gubbins  Matilda Hetherington
Tom Hetherington  Cooper Lower  Ali McKenzie
Gerald Monteith  Harry Quail  Ned Quail
Anna Roxburgh  Alice Tanner  Ryan Tanner

iPad safety & security.

I have recently been asked a few common questions about iPad and internet safety issues. Here’s is a couple of FAQs and my responses that might help in keeping our students and their devices safe.

I have discovered inappropriate content on my child’s iPad.
My child has run up a bill on my credit card buying in app purchases.
What can I do to prevent this?

The best answer to this is to be proactive. As with safety issues in other areas of your child’s life, it is the parents right and responsibility to ensure their child is safe and sometimes that means making rules and taking charge of the situation. Parents should always know what is on their child’s device. Games and websites have ratings on them for a reason. R18+ material is not acceptable at school. This includes games like Grand Theft Auto. Please don’t allow them to load such material onto devices they bring to school.

Until you deem that your child can be responsible for everything that downloads to their device (including paying the bill!), I suggest that parents set up the iTunes account themselves and remain responsible for the iTunes password. This means that no apps, movies, games etc can be downloaded without you putting in the password.

The other thing parents can do is set restrictions on the iPad for internet use. This can/should be done even if you are in charge of the iTunes password because it prevents kids inadvertently stumbling across R18+ content on the internet. The restriction settings can be found in > Settings> General>Restrictions > Enable Restrictions.

You can enable the restrictions for any of the programs or apps on the iPad by setting a passcode. This pass code must be entered for access to anything above the restriction that you set. I suggest setting the restrictor to R18+. This will filter most inappropriate sites & games.

It’s cheaper and safer to browse the internet via wifi, either at home or at school. Sales people will try to convince you to pay for 3G or 4G access on the iPad but if you have wifi at home this is not necessary. If you do decide to go with a sim card enabled device, please disable it while the child is at school. Our internet filter at school is very secure but it only works when the device is connected by wifi.

If you have any questions or would like help in setting up your child’s iPad, please contact me and I will find a time to help you.

WORKING BEE

Friday 28th November 2014
2PM
BYO: Gardening equipment (if possible)
In class we have been reading the Hairy Maclary books by Lynley Dodd. We have been reading to ourselves and to each other. We have made a list of adjectives and verbs to describe all the characters. We will now use this list to help with our writing. We will write a sentence about all the characters in the books.
This week was the final session of Kids in the Kitchen for the year. Our budding chefs enjoyed making Christmas shortbread and receiving a “KIK Cookbook” of all our recipes from throughout the year.
INGREDIENTS

- 1 cup (160g) wholemeal self-rising flour
- 1/2 cup (75g) self-rising flour
- 1/2 cup (100g) brown sugar
- 1/2 tsp bicarbonate of soda
- 1/2 cup (125ml) mashed banana
- 1/5 cup (80ml) vegetable oil
- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup (185ml) milk
- 1/2 cup frozen raspberries
- 200g light cream cheese
- 2 tbs icing sugar mixture
- 1 tsp finely grated lemon rind

METHOD

Step 1
Preheat oven to 180C. Line twelve holes 1/3-cup (80ml) capacity muffin pan with paper cases.

Step 2
Combine the flours, sugar and bicarbonate of soda in a large bowl. Make a well in the centre. Whisk the mashed banana, oil, egg and milk together in a jug. Pour into the well and add the raspberries. Gently stir until just combined (be careful not to over stir).

Step 3
Spoon mixture evenly among prepared muffin holes. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes or until a skewer inserted in the centre comes out clean. Remove from oven and set aside to cool.

Step 4
Use an electric mixer to beat cream cheese, icing sugar and lemon rind in a small bowl until light and fluffy. Spread icing over the top of each muffin to serve.
School procedures for the bushfire season

Fire danger ratings and warnings are used in Victoria to provide clear direction on the safest options for preserving life.

Schools and children's services listed on the DEECD Bushfire At-Risk Register (BARR) will be closed when a Code Red fire danger rating day is determined in their Bureau of Meteorology district. Our school has been identified as being one of those at high bushfire risk and is listed on the BARR.

Where possible, we will provide parents with up to four days notice of a potential Code Red day closure by letter and SMS message. A Code Red day will be determined by the Emergency Management Commissioner no later than 1.00 pm the day before the potential closure. Once we are advised of the confirmation of the Code Red day we will provide you with advice before the end of the school day.

Once confirmed, the decision to close will not change, regardless of improvements in the weather forecast. This is to avoid confusion and help your family plan alternative care arrangements for your child. It is also important to note that:

- No staff will be on site on days where the school is closed due to a forecast Code Red day.
- Active After School Care will also be cancelled on these days.
- School camps will be cancelled if a Code Red fire danger rating day is determined for the Bureau of Meteorology district in which the camp is located.
- As a bus co-ordinating school all bus routes will be cancelled.
- Depending on which Bureau of Meteorology district is impacted bus route cancellations may affect our school.

On these Code Red days families are encouraged to enact their Bushfire Survival Plan – on such days children should never be left at home or in the care of older children.

For those of us living in a bushfire prone area, the CFA advise that when Code Red days are forecast, the safest option is to leave the night before or early on the morning of the Code Red day.

As part of preparing our school for potential hazards such as fire, we have updated and completed our Emergency Management Plan.

What can parents do?

- Make sure your family's bushfire survival plan is up-to-date and includes alternative care arrangements in the event that our school is closed.
- Ensure we have your current contact details, including your mobile phonenumber. Keep in touch with us by reading our newsletters, checking our website and by talking to your child's teacher or any other member of the teaching staff about our emergency management plan.
- Most importantly at this time of year, if you're planning a holiday or short stay in the bush or in a coastal area, you should check warnings in advance of travel and remain vigilant during your stay.
- If your child is old enough, talk to them about bushfires and your family's bushfire survival plan.
- For up-to-date information on this year's fire season, visit the CFA website at www.cfa.vic.gov.au or call the 24-hour Victorian Bushfires InformationLine on 1800 240 667.
Early Fire Danger Period Declared

Fire restrictions will begin at 1.00am on Monday, 1st December for the municipalities of Southern Grampians and Moyne Shires, plus Warrnambool City Council.

CFA Operations Manager, Richard Bourke said that people who have previously conducted burns over spring need to make sure that they are monitored and fully extinguished to prevent flare ups.

The low rainfall during spring and the continuing warm and dry conditions has meant an earlier start to the Fire Danger Period this year. With the vegetation so dry, people need to be particularly careful when using machinery and equipment such as mowers, welders, and slashers, which can create sparks that start a fire.

Mr Bourke emphasised, “While CFA does everything it can, we look to the community to use common sense and take responsibility for preventing fires. It is not too late for people to clean up their property, however the window to do so by burning off would close on Monday 1st December.

Even if you have a permit to use fire over the Fire Danger Period, make sure you must read the conditions carefully. Failing to follow just one of those conditions can still leave you open to prosecution.”

During the Fire Danger Period, fires cannot be lit in the open air without a written permit from CFA or a Municipal Fire Prevention Officer. These restrictions on certain activities are based on local conditions and take into account the dryness and quantity of vegetation, weather and rainfall.

Residents can find out which activities are restricted through the updated brochure “Can I or Can’t I?” available at cfa.vic.gov.au/can, phone Victorian Bushfire Information Line on 1800 240 667, or drop into your local CFA office. All burn-offs should be registered with the VicFire Burn-off notification line on 1800 668 511

While drugs can take their toll on both physical and mental health for young and old, teenagers are particularly vulnerable to the effects that these addictive substances have on their developing brain. As a result, this may lead to long-term problems for their mental function and place them at increased risk of mental illness. Young people should also be aware of the wider issues related to drug taking, such as the impact this can have on their performance at school. As drug taking among young people remains an important issue, this is a topic parents need to tackle with their kids long before they are even offered drugs. While some parents may not be sure how to raise the subject with their children, particularly at a young age, guidance on how to discuss substance abuse with your kids is available. This guide explains how to cover the issue of drug abuse with your children at each stage and also helps you to recognise some of the signs that your teen is abusing drugs, as this requires a separate conversation.

The Early Years

Even though you may not think to bring up the subject of drugs before your child starts school, at this age you can begin to prepare them for the choices they will need to make in their later years by giving them opportunities to start using their decision-making skills, and this is an appropriate stage to focus on dangers at home such as pill bottles. By the time they are in year 3 of primary school, your discussion needs to have moved on to introduce the concept of drugs as substances that can harm their body and lead to an addictive habit. During these years it is also important to discuss and encourage healthy behaviours, such as eating well and staying active, as these can help to protect against drug taking later. As they progress through primary school, make sure that you are armed with the facts about the dangers of drug misuse so that you can educate your kids on these and answer their questions. You may also want to try role playing scenarios where they are offered drugs so that your kids feel confident to turn these down. While your children will start to become more independent at this age, it is essential you show an interest in what your kids do and their friends, as knowing this information can alert you to any problems early on.

High School

Around the time they enter high school your children will be going through lots of changes and this is a time when many are tempted to try drugs for the first time. Your support has never been more important than now and discussions you have now about substance abuse should concentrate on the immediate impact drug taking can have on factors such as their appearance, emotions, school work and social life, as this keeps it highly relevant to them. By year 10 a teen may have turned down drugs plenty of times already, but it doesn’t hurt to keep on talking to your kids about their dangers. Again, keeping the conversation pertinent to their life is essential, so you may want to focus on how substance misuse could impact on their further studies or future career. It is also useful to remember that praising achievements and healthy choices when at high school can help teens to make positive choices and stay clean from drugs.
WANTED : STUDENT EXCHANGE HOSTS

This year we have been fortunate to have three long term exchange students enrolled at our school. Florence, Yuri & Pascale have been wonderful additions to our student cohort. They have willingly shared their experiences and knowledge of their home countries with us and they have been great role models in goal setting and work ethic.

Next year we already have two more exchange students enrolled and we are looking forward to meeting them at the start of next year.

We have been contacted by the AFS exchange organization asking for help in attracting more host families to the program. There are lots of international students hoping to do an exchange year in Australia and they need homes to stay in. I have included part of the AFS letter below.

“At AFS we are very grateful to your school for your interest in hosting our exchange students from around the world. We know that you will have positive experiences with our students and hope you will consider hosting AFS students in 2015.

In particular, we have over 11 students arriving into Victoria from Japan, France, Chile & Finland who are all requiring host placements in Victorian schools. These students arrive in February and will be here on either a 5 or 11 month program. Your students may not only increase their intercultural understanding through their experience, but learn how to interact with people from different backgrounds and through this develop themselves as young leaders in a global environment.

We are still looking for schools and host families for

6 Japanese students
2 French Students
1 Chilean, Finnish & German student

These students are set to arrive into Australia on February 6 2015.

AFS Exchange Students in Australian Schools

Who are AFS Exchange Students? AFS welcomes more than 200 international high school students to Australia from 50 countries annually. Our students:

- are seen as role models and leaders in their home communities
- must be accepted by an AFS office in their home country, as well by AFS Australia on the basis of academic achievement and motivation to study abroad
- are required to make an effort to do their best regardless of whether grades transfer home
- have a tested level of proficiency in English and strive to increase language skills
- are ambassadors for their countries and provide invaluable opportunities for global learning

If you would like to discuss hosting an AFS student further, please do not hesitate to contact me. Here at AFS we are constantly evolving the programs we offer and are open to working closely with your school to provide inbound and outbound programs to suit your school community.”
